

Jo Hodges

Jo has over 20 years corporate business experience in a number of HR, sales, account management, leadership, business development, training and development with top tier companies such as Price Waterhouse Cooper, BP Australia, BP London and the Telstra Corporation.

All of these prestigious and rewarding roles have taught her the importance of effective leadership and engaged employees in supporting a company's higher vision and powering up their profits. Jo's intense passion for people and ability to tap into their true potential has allowed her to deliver invaluable personal and professional results for her clients.